Go Green CHALLENGE

Have you ever thought about how your actions affect the environment? By incorporating green principles in your life, you can positively impact the environment—and your health and well-being, too!

What's it about?

The Go Green Challenge encourages you to make changes that positively impact the environment and your personal health.

How long is the campaign?

Four Weeks

The Challenge

Each week, participate in a “green” activity and record your participation on the Activity Tracker. Earn four points to complete the challenge!
